NEPTUNE OFFICERS WANT PAY INCREASE

Will Go to Shipping Board on June 26, Just Before Agreement Expires.

Marine officers, represented by the Neptune Association, will ask the Shipping Board for increased wages conditioned on passage of the subsidy bill, it was learned yesterday. A meeting is to be held in Washington June 26, to discuss extension of the present wages and working conditions agreement after this month, when it expires. The officers at htat time will state their case for more pay.

The officers believe that under the The officers believe that inder the irrent depressed conditions in shipping left income has been forced below the vel justified by American standards living and believe that they should mefit directly from the aid to the merital control of the income control of th of living and believe that they should benefit directly from the aid to the merchant marine contemplated in the proposed legislation, aside from the increased employment anticipated if the profitable operation of American shipping is made possible through the subsidy.

Appointed to appear before the Shipping Board to argue the officers' case is a delegation headed by J. F. Milliken, secretary-treasurer of the Neptune Association, and including Leslie Hall, representative at Philadelphia, and Capt. James Roll, representative at Baltimor of the association.

Capt. Milliken talked yesterday with Winthrop L. Marvin, vice-president and general manager of the American Steamship Owners Association, in an effort to learn whether the decision of the owners to encourage and extend the operations of the American Steamship Discosed Officers Association meant the beginning of a campaign against the Neptune Association. He was assured that it did not.

Capt. Milliken said that many of his

MEDITERRANEAN RATES MAY BE SLASHED SOON

Some Lines Prefer Not to Wait Until Autumn.

Several passenger liners are pressing for an immediate reduction in fares be-tween New York and Greek ports, it be-came known yesterday at a meeting of the Mediterranean passenger confer-

Most of the lines operating in the Mediterranean routes are known to favor deferring any action on rates until October, after the cessation of the until October, after the cessation of the homeward rush of tourists. Several reek lines, however, were said to be persistent in the demand for cuts intended to stimulate this summer's business. It was decided to postpone a decision until after a meeting in London next week of the Atlantic passenger conference, at which the matter of Mediterranean rates is to be discussed. Not long ago a break up of the Mediterranean conference, which probably would have precipitated a rate war, was narrowly averted. At that time the American Black Sea Line threatened to bolt the conference and make its own rates and the Fabre Line was preparing to cut first class fares $15 despite the opposition of the other members. Both organizations were persuaded to recon-

CHILE TO HANDLE HER OWN COAST TRADE

Special Cable to The New York Herald. Copyright, 1922, by The New York Herald. New York Herald Bureau. | London, June 13.

British shipping companies are trying to get the Government to make vigorous protests against the coastwise shipping legislation already effective in Chilean ports and proposed by Peru, whereby not only British but American vessels practically are excluded from trade along the west coast of South America, Some diplomatic difficulty will be experienced in framing the protests, however, as both the Chilean and the proposed Peruvian laws are almost exact coast of South America, Chr Michelsen, Chaparra Sth., Atlantic Fruit Discovery, as both the Chilean and the proposed Peruvian laws are almost exact casts.

The Atlantic intercoastal conference reduced rates yesterday on coment and asbestos in bags from $1.45 a hundred pounds to $1.15; confectioners' paste from $2.65 to $2, and wooden pins and dowels from $1.95 to $1.25. In addition a number of new classifications were dowels from $1.95 to $1.25. In addition a number of new classifications were created. Not all the business on hand war completed and an adjournment was taken to to-morrow. Data is being collected for presentation at the Shipping Honrd's hearing on the recent conference agreement to eliminate Tacoma and other Pacific coast ports from salling achedules of the intercoastal lines.

Steamship Owners Association, in an effort to learn whether the decision of the owners to encourage and extend the operations of the American Steamship Licensed Officers Association meant the beginning of a campaign against the Neptune Association. He was assured that it did not.

Capt. Milliken said that many of his members had been unfavorably impressed by reports of the owners action, but that he did not believe that Neptune would be injured unless there was a radical change in the constitution and methods of the officers' association.

Capt. Milliken also saw A. F. Mack, district director of the Shipping Board, who has entered an objection to the officers' plans to have ship's masters execute commercial missions in foreign ports as sidelings to their regular duties. Mr. Mack saff he still opposed the project, but would leave any formal action in the matter to the officials at Washington.
